104 YEARS AND COUNTING

2015 is the 104th year of state high school basketball tournaments in our state. The tournaments from 1912 through 1922 were operated by the Iowa Athletic Council, a group sanctioned by the IHSAA. To grow the sport the Council held "invitational state tournaments" usually at sites connected by railroads - Ames, Iowa City, Boone, etc. The tournaments created interest but did not address issues like length of the season, number of games, eligibility, age of participants, etc. Thus in 1923 the IHSAA assumed total control of the sport.

For many years, basketball was the "gold standard" for the Association, generating enough revenue to offset the cost of salaries, operations, awards, and administering each of the other sports sanctioned by the IHSAA. Because of strong support of the administrators from the member schools, the sport, today still enjoys strong public support and attracts nearly 12,000 boys.

Each year we make a serious effort to correct sections and to make them as comprehensive as our records allow. With the help of Jared Chizek and Kylie Swanson, we try to catch incorrect spellings and typos that occur with a book of this nature. If you discover an error please contact Information Director Bud Legg (blegg@iahsaa.org)
